BUCKETLIST LAUNCHES MARKETPLACE – TO CONNECT DREAMERS WITH EXPERIENCES

BucketList announces the official launching of its 'marketplace for life experiences' which will commence on the 17th of April on their site <https://market.bucketlist.net>. This marketplace will provide an opportunity for people to fulfil their lifelong dreams, or to offer their services to others as skilled merchants.

In a statement from the marketing team regarding the launch, "Until now BucketList has been an online community where people can list their life goals and received help from friends and family. This works well with simpler goals like "learning to dance", but when it comes to skydiving and other extreme experiences, then people need help from professionals. That's why we are now launching the BucketList Marketplace".

The BucketList Marketplace is a new way to match the skills and services of professionals to dreamers and fun seekers. It presents different categories of whatever experience one desires including Adventure Travel, Epic Experience, Instructors and DreamGuides. Even more interesting is the fact that marketplace experiences are tailored based on the dreams and goals shared on the community. This rare service allows buckaroos to find unique experiences, provided by seasoned professionals, all with a lowest price guarantee.

You want to go for a hot air balloon ride, or go white water rafting, or get business and life coaching? Whatever you dream of, check out the BucketList Marketplace on Easter Monday and join in on the Easter Egg Hunt!
